AT LAST!

In the stories which are told every day for about one or two desperadoes holding up a train and robbing a whole carload of passengers, the wonder is often felt that some plucky, indignant man doesn't get Ti a shot at the robbers. In the last account of a raid on a train on the Guif, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad a brave brakeman opened fire on a gang of four. They killed him, but were frightened off be- Pro fore they could relieve the sa'e of $12,000 which it contained.

FROM UNFREQUENTED LANDS. A series of eight articles will cover five years' adventures in Africa, and they will be illustrated by sketches made by Mr. Ward on the spot, and by photographs taken by him in Africa. These pictures will throw much light upon the manner and customs of the hitherto unknown cannibal tribes of Africa.—Rev. E. R. Young, the celebrated missionary, will furnish aftern articles on the experiences and adventures of himself and his wife during twenty years' residence in British America, twelve hundred miles north of St. Paul.—Leo Hartmann, Nihillist, writes twelve sketches showing how the intelligent people of Russla are becoming Nihillists in consequence of the despotism of the Bussian form of government. Poem by John G. Whittier, illustrated by Howard Pylo, and engraved by H. Welf, R. G. Tietse and E. A. Clement.

The next souvenir will be a beautifully illustrated poem by James Russell Lowell. SERIAL STORIES BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED. Continued stories will be contributed, Anna Katharine Green, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Robert Louis Stevenson, Col. Thomas W. Knox, Albion W. Tourgee, Prof. W. C. Kitchin, Robert Grant, Frank H. Converse, Harold Frederic, and others.

These articles were written especially for the "Ledger" by writers whose reputation and capability establish them as the persons most eminently fitted to treat that particular subject assigned to each.—The Hon. George Bancroft contributes three articles on The Battle of Lake Eric, beautifully illustrated.—Hon. Henry W. Grady furnishes six articles on The Wonderful Development of the New South.—James Parton contributes a series of articles on Encidents in the Life of Andrew Jackson.—Rev. John R. Paxton, D. D., contributes six articles on Experience in My Army Life.

EPOPULAR INFORMATION. Throughout the year the "Ledger" will contain hundreds amount of beneficial information that will be of inestimable value to those who are in search of senething instructive and unoful—Prof. J. H. Comstock, of Comel University, will contribute a neries of six useful papers on the study of insocts. Prof. Comstock treats of bugs that are useful to the agricult-rist, as well at those that are destructive. He points out in the clearest scientific way how to destroy the posts of our fields.—Prof. Alexander M. Stevens will explain the manners and customs of the Mold Puellos, a posularly strange tribe of Arizona Indiana.—Dr. Felix L. Osswald is, by special arrangement, contributing a series of popular scientific electhes, embracing the observations of the writer during his investigations into the unfamillar placement of natural history and occult ceience.—C. F. Holder contributes an extended series of articles on singular aspects of animal life on sea and land. His articles are brimful of information.

fascinating authors as Madeleine Vinton Dahlgren, Col. Thomas W. Knox, The Marquise Lanza, Margaret Deland, Julian Hawthorne, Harold Frederic, Harriet Prescott Spoiford, Clara Whitridge, George F. Parsons, Marion Harland, Mary Kyle Dallas, Amy Randolph.

THE PRESSIVE PAPERS. These papers are a medium through which the readers of the "Ledger" will be entertained by many of the most eminent men of the day. The beneat derived from these articles will in itself compensate any one for the price of the "Ledger"— Murat Halstend contributes a series of papers on The Journeyings of a Journalist, being the experience of the author during his travels Around the Gobe.—Rev. Dr. McCosh, ex-President of Princeton Cologo, farnishes a series of papers on the present state of religious thought and development, entitled On the Border Land of Religion.—Hon. George Bancroft tells of A Day Spent With Lord Byron.—Prof. Eliot Blauvelt explains how Egypt fell into a state of rulness distraction, consequent on the decline of the Roman government, and how every species of barbaric rudences supersected the refined habits of the people.—Rev. Dr. Henry M. Field contributes a paper on The Lopez Expedition, the first of a series of articles descriptive of thrilling historical episodes.—Many other highly impressive papers are in preparation by M. V. Hazeltine, E. L. Godikin, Rev. Dr. John Hall, James Parton, Prof. W. C. Kitchin, Rev. Emory J. Haynes, and George Frederic Parsons.

Literary Note.

The recent change in the New York Ledger is very significant in that is presents for consideration the interesting question. What is the most popular periodical literature of to-day? Instead of a large paper of eight pages such as it has been in bygone years, the Ledger is now issued in a compact, elegant form of sixteen pages, and instead of being filled with stories "to be continued in our next," its columns are brilliant with articles of popular interest from the pens of many of the best writers. This shows marked progress, and is an encouraging state of affair. There is another change in the Ledger, the object of which is not so appa crit. While the quality of the pater used is more expensive than formarly, and the cost of illustrations has been greatly increased, the price of the Ledger has been restured from $3 to $2 a year. Is this a thrust at the cheap paper-book literature that is flooting the market? Whatever may have been the moving cause for this reduction of price, it is certainly a change that is greatly to the advantage of the Ledger's year literature is the content of the ledger's year and the content of the content of the ledger's year at the cheap paper-book literature that is flooting the market? Whatever may have been the moving cause for this reduction of price, it is certainly a change that is greatly to the advantage of the Ledger's year.
